MIDNIGHT EXPRESS

How Funds are Used

The past 30 years, Country's has had the privilege of hosting the Midnight Express. While all the past years have been about running and having fun, the last 20 or so years have also been about raising much needed awareness and money for the visually impaired in our community.

Just a few of the ways your participation has positively affected the visually impaired have been through the donation of a ventilator that prevents blindness in premature babies, the purchase of multiple pieces of equipment for several grade schools that include a specialized copy machine, a total graphics solution package, a digital imaging system, and laptop computers equipped with Jaws software. And you've helped provide scholarships that allow visually impaired students to continue their education at the college level. You have also been able to support veterans through the Blinded Veterans Association.

Some funds from Midnight Express will help provide specialized equipment in the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit at The Medical Center that helps prevent blindness and ophthalmologic screening instruments to aid in the early detection of retinopathy that sometimes arise as a complication of premature birth.

MIDNIGHT EXPRESS

Country's Barbecue Partners with Chattahoochee Valley Libraries to install state-of-the-art sound proof recording studio with funds from Midnight Express Run

Funds from the Midnight Express Run will be used to purchase a state-of-the-art sound proof recording studio that will be used to record books, local periodicals and much more for the visually impaired in our community.

National Library Service (NLS) specifications have been closely observed by Eckel Industries, the company who is custom designing the sound booth.
Once the booth is complete, special equipment and digital recording software designed for Network Libraries will be installed. Having such a recording booth in the library will allow persons who are blind or visually impaired to have access to local history books and other Georgia-specific materials which are now only available in print. Volunteers will be trained as Reviewers, Monitors and Narrators to work as part of "the recording team" under the guidance of library staff to produce audio books and other materials for the Columbus community.

The booth will be located on the first floor of the Columbus Public Library on Macon Road. A special dedication will take place in August before the 2010 Midnight Express race.

We hope you will join us for the 30th running of the Midnight Express to help us with our goal to bring to Columbus a Technology Center that will be available to all the visually impaired folks in our region.
